Clemson Area StoryTellers (CAST) Guild promotes and celebrates the art of storytelling. The purpose of CAST is the preservation of oral narratives – stories passed down from generation to generation – for families and the community. We also celebrate the performance of stories for all ages, children to adults.

Members and friends meet each month, to share stories and practice storytelling skills.

CAST welcomes storytellers of all ages, from novice to professional, dedicated listeners, and all those with an interest in the oral tradition.

Our stories come from many cultures and include traditional folktales, fairy tales, family and personal stories, tall tales, and urban myths.

CAST welcomes all those, who share a love of story and have a desire to listen or tell, to join us for a guild meeting.
